DON'T FORGET TO VOTE FOR DR. J. D. WHITEAKER HE IS THE ONLY ONE WHO CAN WIN IN NOVEMBER

ARNETT A WINNER.

As the date of the primary draws near and it is possible to estimate the expressions of opinion of the people, it is clearly evident to all who have taken the trouble to inquire that I will be nominated by a big majority.

There was started a campaign of misrepresentation against me at a time when it seemed that I would not have time to combat it, but most of the reports were so palpably untrue that they did not need denial. My friends took up the challenge and laid bare all the charges against me and the reaction set in and the people resented the method of misrepresentation and are stronger for me than at any time in the campaign.

Every man who has served on the grand and petit juries of the county knows that I have labored hard to do my duty, and they also know that the accusations against me was a thrust at their own honor and are resenting it. The fellows who started a vicious campaign of misrepresentation against me did not stop to consider that when they charged that crime had not been punished in Morgan county that they were casting a slur upon the juries of the county, and especially upon the grand juries, whose duty it is to find the indictments.

These jurors know better than anyone else that I have labored hard and faithfully to prosecute all manner of crime, and they know how difficult it has been at times to do so.

This is the last opportunity I will have to speak to you through the columns of the press, and I want to appeal to your sense of justice and fair play. I have served only a part of a term and in that time I know that I have done all that was possible to do to put down crime. The charges to the contrary are purely buncombe for the purpose of prejudicing the good people against me.

I have made a close campaign of the district and the people assure me that they are with me in my efforts to enforce the law, and in every section comes the cheering word that the good people and the good women are rallying to my support, and there is no doubt of my nomination by a good big majority. From the best information that can be had there is little doubt that I will receive majorities in all three of the counties in the district.

Just a few weeks before the primary, up until the last day to file as a candidate, my opponent was telling the people that I was the man for the place and that he was for me. For weeks he had been active in the matter of expressing himself for me and telling everyone that he was for me. If I was good enough to have the man who is now opposing me be for me then there is no reason why the citizens should be deceived by the false propaganda that is now being circulated.

I want to thank the citizens who have so openly expressed themselves for me and who have been working for me in this election. It is indeed gratifying to know that I have, in my humble way, so discharged my duty that the good citizens have seen cause to endorse my work by being for me, and greater than the mere success in the election is that feeling that the good people whom I have served are willing to say: "Well done, then good and faithful servant, enter upon your reward."

The records of the court are the best evidence of the fact that I done my duty. When the deluge of liquor selling and moonshining broke over the country, not only this county but the whole United States, I began in earnest to combat it, but there was a state of bewilderment and awe in the minds of the people and it required some little time to get organized to bring the guilty to justice. The people had to get together and weigh the situation and then we had to get the proof against the violators, and there was the hard job. Few citizens cared to take the initiative in the matter, and it was only by hard work that a sentiment of resistance to the law-breakers aroused. The good people recovered from their astonishment at the wave of liquor selling and have stood nobly by in the furnishing of evidence and at the last term of the court nearly a hundred liquor indictments, for selling, drinking and having in possession, were made, and nearly a hundred indictments for other offenses. These indictments are on the docket and will be tried at the next term of the court which begins on August 8. Various false and misleading stories have been set afloat concerning these indictments, but they have been disproven by the Circuit Court Clerk, officially giving the lie to one of the falsehoods. The others have been equally untrue and have been as easily disproven. Falsehood always react upon the one who utters it and instead of hurting me these lies have only strengthened me with the good people, and I confidently expect to be nominated by a majority of from 1,000 to 1,200 in the district.

Again thanking the good people for their support and reminding them all that is necessary to win for me is for my friends to go out and vote on August 6.

Very respectfully,
FLOYD ARNETT.

Gardner Answers Critics.

Fellow Democrats, have you ever considered that when men attempt to prejudice you by telling you things that are not true in order to influence your votes that it was a reflection not only upon your honor but upon your intelligence?

Some of the men who are waging a bitter fight against me are harping upon the one idea that I have not enforced the law against the sale of liquor as it should have been enforced. Have you heard any other charge?

Now, what are the facts in the matter? What evidence have they to offer that I have not done all that was humanly possible to do? Have I not appointed jury commissioners who selected good men as jurors? Have these commissioners who selected good men as jurors? Have these petit juries? Have I not insisted that the grand juries search out and indict all violators of the law? Have not all who were indicted been tried by juries?

And in the meantime, while I was using every effort in my power to break up the sale of liquor, what was my opponent doing? When the officers were doing all in their power to search out witnesses who would make indictments and were combing the county as with a fine tooth comb for evidence, did he send to them a single name that would make an indictment. While the county paper was calling for names that it might help and calling upon the good citizens to take a stand in the open for law enforcement, did he offer his assistance or send in a single name? He promises in his advertisements to put down the liquor traffic, but does he tell you how he will do it? And has it not been just since he became a candidate that he is loud in his denunciation of lawlessness? I concede that Mr. Kennard is a law abiding citizen and always has been, but has he done anything to help in the suppression of crime?

Again, I want to call your attention to the fact that the law against the sale of liquor has been more rigidly enforced in this judicial district than in any district in the State. There is less crime in this district than any other in the State. Circuit Judges' Associations, Commonwealth's Attorneys' Associations, Bar Associations all over the United States have met and discussed the deluge of crime that has followed the war and the attempt to enforce the Volstead prohibition act. Ministerial Associations have deliberated upon the deplorable conditions, and all agree that there must be an awakening of public sentiment among the good citizens and their active co-operation secured before the liquor curse can be eradicated. The epidemic of crime and liquor selling that causes the nation to shudder came suddenly upon the closing of the saloons and the unpreparedness of the public to combat it. It is a condition, not a theory, that we face. It has to be faced sanely and honestly. He who seeks to localize general conditions of lawlessness and pretend that ours is the only place of bad conditions is not fair to the people and is unworthy of your support. My opponent cannot bring concrete charges that I have failed in my efforts at law enforcement. Every man who knows the facts knows that I have honestly and earnestly striven to bring the guilty to justice and mete out punishment to them. Public sentiment is now ripe for the proper aid from the citizens, as the last term of court will show, and with that sentiment continuing it will be easier to suppress the liquor evil. The citizens are now willing to do their part in the matter and the court will have little trouble in enforcing the law more rigidly.

Already the false propaganda against me is dying and the wave of temporary dissatisfaction has gone over, leaving the thinking citizens, or a majority of them, disgusted at the transparency of the propaganda that was set afloat to injure me, and the best indications are that my majority will be so great that people will wonder how anyone ever thought my opponent had a chance to win. The jurors and grand jurors who have been reflected upon by this false propaganda should resent the attempted besmirching of their honor and doubtless will. They know whether or not I have done my duty in the way of law enforcement, and as they are from every part of the county it will be seen how the charges against me will fall down on account of the readiness with which they are disproven.

Yours very truly,
D. W. GARDNER.

Editor Courier,
West Liberty, Ky.

Dear Sir:

Enclosed find money order for $5.00 to credit on my subscription to the Licking Valley Courier, and please keep the old home paper coming, as I want to get all the Morgan county news. We are living here in the Salt river valley, at Phoenix, Arizona.

This was a desert valley embracing several hundred thousand acres of level and surrounded by low barren mountains. But is now a fertile country watered by the Roosevelt dam and Salt river. The soil is very fertile and the climate ideal. There are about three hundred thousand acres watered by the reservoir and there is plenty of water for all crops. Most anything will grow here from citrus fruits on down. The average rainfall per annum 8.2 inches but it has only rained 2.05 inches this year. The sun shines here on an average of 300 days per year. Of course, as all my friends know, the sunshine don't suit me very well, but as my work is inside I get on very well. Of course I get a little homesick for old Kentucky, but I just read the Courier and move on. Phoenix is the capital and metropolis of the State, having a population of 29,000, with the county having a population of 65,000. We are just completing a road paving program in the county which calls for more than four hundred miles of concrete and costing $8,500,000, which paves all the principal roads in the county and certainly is a boost for any county.

In fact, all Salt river valley people are boosters. If you don't believe it come out and see. In addition to the 400 miles of road paved with concrete the city has 200 miles of paved streets. I haven't seen any mud since I left Kentucky last November. I see through the columns of the Couriers that my old friend Judge Jim Sebastian is boosting roads in Morgan. I know Jim is the biggest man in Morgan in doing things. So go to it J. H., we are all with you for Morgan county is not worthy living in without good roads and a little moonshine whisky, and you have that. But try to make that less, and make old Morgan the ideal county to live in for we all love her.

Farmers here are very busy shipping cantaloupes out of the valley, which will amount to several thousand car loads. The tax valuation of Monicopa county in 1922,000,000.00 for 1921.

If any of my friends drift out this way be sure and look me up. I would be glad to have a letter from any of them. Last July a year ago I drove an oakland car from Mt. Sterling to Phoenix, a distance of 2,500 miles, covering the entire distance in 12 days. It certainly was some exciting drive, crossing the Rattoon pass from Trinidad, Colo., to Rattoon, New Mexico, the highest point on the Santa Fee, and hundreds of places where slips meant a plunge of hundreds of feet down a canon, but I made the trip without an accident and when the Oakland was called she responded.

With best wishes to the Courier and all my friends in old Morgan, I am,
Yours truly,
R. H. Smith.

An Explanation.

Just at the last minute we discovered an error in the ballots and had to do the work over again, and on that account we had to leave out a number of news items, correspondence and other things, which will appear next issue. We will have more time for the paper after this week.

HELL.

Just what is meant by this word "Hell?"

They say sometimes "It's cold as Hell," sometimes they say "It's hot as Hell."

When it rains hard "It's Hell they cry," it's also "Hell" when it is dry. They hate like Hell to see it snow, it's a "Hell of a wind" when it starts to blow.

Now "How in the Hell" can anyone tell "What in the Hell" they mean by this word "Hell?"

This married life is "Hell" they say. When he comes in late there's "Hell to pay."

When he starts to yell, it's a "Hell of a note,"

It's "Hell" when the kid you have to tout,

It's "Hell" when the doctor sends his bills

For a "Hell of a lot" of trips and pills. When you get this you will know real well

Just what is meant by this word "Hell."

"Hell, yes!" "Hell, no!" and "Oh, Hell," too!

"The Hell you don't," "The Hell you do,"

And "What in the Hell?" and "The Hell it is,"

"The Hell with yours" and "The Hell with his,"

Now "How in Hell!" and "Oh, Hell, where?"

And "What the Hell do you think I care?"

But "The Hell of it is," "It's as sure as Hell"

We don't know "What in the Hell" is "Hell."

Indigestion

Many persons, otherwise vigorous and healthy, are bothered occasionally with indigestion. The effects of a disordered stomach on the system are dangerous, and prompt treatment of indigestion is important. "The only medicine I have needed has been something to aid digestion and clean the liver," writes Mr. Fred Ashby, a McKinney, Texas, farmer. "My medicine is for indigestion and stomach trouble of any kind. I have never found anything that touches the spot, like Black-Draught. I take it in broken doses after meals. For a long time I tried pills, which gripped and didn't give the good results. Black-Draught liver medicine is easy to take, easy to keep, inexpensive.

Theford's

Len Small, Governor of Illinois, has been indicted for embezzlement while he was treasurer, and a judge has decided that he is subject to arrest, and the sheriff of Sangamon county says he will arrest him. The Governor contended that his position as Governor exempted him from arrest, but the judge thought different. The latest is that Small has fled the jurisdiction of the State.

THE OIL INSPECTOR.

A new office under the State Republican administration is the oil inspector. He gets a per gallon salary on all the oil produced, whether he inspects it or not, and his salary is many times that of the Governor.

It seems that we can remember the campaign for Governor when Governor Morrow was pledging that all useless offices would be abolished.

But perhaps it is an echo that we hear.

DANCING AND MORALITY.

Notwithstanding the fact that some church members contend that dancing is harmless, at certain places in Chicago where the elite congregate to dance the girls appeared in the ball room clad in silk underwear only. The excuse was the heat.

Is there another pleasure known among the young people that would cause the girls to so forget modesty as to appear publicly clad only in their underwear?

STARVING RUSSIA.

The famine in Russia is growing in extent and in intensity, and more than six millions of starving people in the Moscow section have begun to strip the country of food of every kind. When they invade the cities the horses of the fire department are forcibly taken for food and everything in the way of live stock is being devoured by the starving people.

The Red authorities are shooting women who revolt against their restrictions, but the pangs of hunger is slowly overthrowing the Soviet rule.

RULES OF THE ROAD.

Since automobiles are becoming so numerous in this county there ought to be more regard for the rules of the road than is given. It has been luck rather than conduct that has prevented serious accidents.

Necessarily the roads in this county are crooked and before approaching one of the curves the driver should sound his horn. And autoists should keep closely to the right in making the turns. If a machine is passing you from behind pull out to the right hand side of the road and let the machine go to your left. Always take the right hand side of the road when you meet another machine.

There is too much speeding upon the crooked roads for safety. The automobile is growing rapidly in favor and the number in this county is constantly increasing, so that it becomes imperative to adhere to the rules of the road and to drive carefully if serious accidents are to be averted.

THE AFTERMATH.

This is the last issue of the Courier that will appear before the primary election. Just who will be nominated the Courier has no means of knowing. It does know, however, that only one man can be elected to each office and that there are some who are to be defeated. The office of the primary is to choose the nominees of the various parties, and every candidate should school himself against possible defeat.

As a matter of course the only contests that are exciting the people in this county are among the Democrats and the adherents of each candidate should go into the final days of the campaign with the idea that his man may be defeated, and that in case he is he and his friends will be loyal to the party.

There are matters that must be settled this year that are of more importance to every Democrat than the county or district offices, and the various candidates should so conduct the campaign that there will be no sore spots to heal before the November election.

LOCAL ADVERTISING.

There are yet business men in this section who think that they cannot afford to advertise. They are honest in their views because have not studied the matter of advertising from the business viewpoint.

In towns where the competition is keen the merchants are the best advertisers. Why? Because they soon learn that to get trade they must acquaint the people with what they have and with their prices.

In times like this, when everybody is measuring the purchasing price of money, the advertiser has decidedly the best of his competitor. During the inflated period of the war people did not reckon with prices. They had plenty of money and it was understood that prices were high and it mattered little where their money was spent. But now money is scarcer and the man with a family to support looks carefully at the newspapers to see where his dollar will buy most. In times of business depression is the time when advertising is a necessity to the merchant who expects trade.

The readers of newspapers have learned that the merchant who advertises is the one who gives best bargains. Advertising is merely the force which turns the merchant's stock over and over. By attracting purchasers to his store by advertising the merchant is enabled to turn his stock over more frequently and as a consequence he can sell at a smaller margin of profit. Advertising enables him to do a greater amount of business on a smaller capital.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Ford
THE UNIVERSAL CAR

Mr. Edsel B. Ford, President of the Ford Motor Company, gives out the following statement:

"Another reduction has been made in the list price on all types of Ford cars and the Ford trucks to take effect immediately. The list prices, f. o. b. Detroit, are now as follows:

TOURING CAR	$415.00
RUNABOUT	370.00
COUPE	695.00
SEDAN	760.00
CHASSIS	345.00
TRUCK-CHASSIS	495.00
TRACTOR	625.00

"The big reductions last fall were made in anticipation of low material costs which we are now getting the benefit of, and this fact together with increased manufacturing efficiency and the unprecedented demand for Ford cars, particularly during the past three months permitting maximum production, have made another reduction possible immediately.

"Ford business for April and May 1921 was greater by 56,633 cars and trucks than for the same two months in 1920; in fact, the demand has been even greater than the supply, so that our output has been limited, not by unfilled orders but by manufacturing facilities.

"During May we produced 101,424 Ford cars and trucks for sale in the United States alone—the biggest month in the history of our company—and our factories and assembly plants are now working on a 4,000 car daily schedule for June.

"The Fordson tractor is still being sold at less than the cost to produce on account of the recent big price reductions, and it is impossible, therefore, to make any further cut in the price of the tractor."

Can you afford to go without a car any longer when Fords are selling at these new low prices? There is no reason now why you should delay purchasing a Ford car, Ford truck, or Fordson tractor.

We will gladly advise you concerning the delivery of a Fordson tractor or the particular type of car in which you are interested. Just phone us or drop us a card.

THAT'S OUR IDEA in making CAMELS—the Quality Cigarette.

Why, just buy Camels and look at the package! It's the best packing science has devised to keep cigarettes fresh and full flavored for your taste. Heavy paper outside—secure foil wrapping inside and the revenue stamp over the end to seal the package and keep it air-tight.

And note this! There's nothing flashy about the Camel package. No extra wrappings that do not improve the smoke. Not a cent of needless expense that must come out of the quality of the tobacco Camels wonderful and exclusive Quality wins on merit alone.

Because, men smoke Camels who want the taste and fragrance of the finest tobaccos, expertly blended. Men smoke Camels for Camels smooth, refreshing mildness and their freedom from cigarette aftertaste.

Don't stick with the prunes

MY DAD'S favorite yarn.
WAS THE one about.
THE OLD storekeeper.
WHO WAS playing checkers.
IN THE back of the store.
AMONG THE coal oil.
AND THE prunes.
WHEN THE sheriff.
WHO HAD just jumped his leg.
SAID "Si there's a customer.
WAITIN' OUT front."
AND SI said "Sh-h-h!
IF YOU'LL keep quiet.
MEBBE HE'LL go away."
NOW HERE'S the big idea.
WHEN A good thing.
HAPPENS ALONG.
DON'T LEAVE it to George.
TO GRAB the gravy.
FRINCEANCE IF.

YOU HEAR of a smoke.
OR READ about a smoke.
THAT REALLY does more.
THAN PLEASE the taste.
THERE ARE no hooks on you.
THERE'S NO law against.
YOUR STEPPING UP.
WITH THE other live ones.
AND SAYING right out.
IN A loud, clear voice.
"GIMME A pack of.
THOSE CIGARETTES.
THAT SATISFY."

YOU'LL say you never tasted such flavor, such mild but full-bodied tobacco goodness.
You're right, too, because they don't make other cigarettes like Chesterfields. The Chesterfield blend can't be copied.

FARMERS MAY GET FOOLED
BY LOAFER HENS IN FLOCK Calling is the one sure means of picking out the looper hens in spite of the fact that the owner sometimes thinks the wrong birds have been removed, according to R. B. Rankin Morgan county agent who is planning to hold a number of demonstrations to show farmers and their wives of this section how to tell the non-laying hen from the heavy laying one. This fact was demonstrated in one of the cutting demonstrations held last year on the farm of S. A. H. M. Froman, of Ghent.

A specialist from the poultry department of the College of Agriculture called 31 hens out of a flock of 65 Senator Froman and placed them in a pen by themselves. When Senator Froman returned home he questioned the correctness of the selection which had been made and declared that in his estimation the wrong hens had been placed in the pen for culls. He said the selected loafers one week later, however, upon discovering that during the seven days the 29 hens had laid as many eggs as the 36 had laid the preceding seven days while the 31 hens had lived up to their titles o loafers and not laid an egg.

"These results are typical of those which may be found on many Morgan county farms," said County Agent Rankin. "The looper is not only a non-producer of eggs but she is also able to fool the farmer into thinking that she is laying. "It will be the object of the demonstrations which will be held to show the farmers how to pick out these loafers. We intend to show the differences and then distribute literature which will make it possible for the farmers and their wives to go home and pick out the looper hens which have stopped laying to lay until spring."

FROM ANOTHER SOLDIER.
Greear, Ky., July 30, 1921.
To the Voters of Morgan county:
I desire to make a special appeal to you in behalf of Lynn B. Wells, candidate for the Democratic nomination for County Attorney in the primary next Saturday.
I am not acquainted with either Mr. Wells or his opponents, but being an ex-service man, I think that all soldiers should stand together and let the world know that even as we stood together "over there" we will do the same at home.
To those who were not in the war I ask you to answer the following questions before you cast your votes in this race:
1 Who laid his life on the sacrificial altar in the service of his country?
2 Who received a dollar a day when every other able-bodied citizen of the United States remained at home and made more money than they ever made before?
3 Who came back home broken in health, without a job and with no money in his pockets and unable to earn a living because of wounds received or health shattered on account of hardships endured while in the service?
4 Who faced the music on the battle fronts to the tune of bursting shells, mustard gas and machine guns?
5 Who went hungry for from three to five days and often at night crowded for hours over the dead bodies of his comrades in the hope of finding a small box of hard tack on which to exist another day and keep up the fight?
6 Who slept in mud and water or else made his bed on the dead bodies of other American soldiers to keep dry?
When you ask yourselves these questions, and answer them, I don't believe you will have any doubt about whom you should vote for. You will vote for Mr. Wells, the soldier candidate.
The citizens of this county, and every other county, should recognize in some way the debt they owe to the ex-soldier. It is a debt that has not and never can be repaid, but gratitude, at least, should be shown and appreciation for what he has done for you.
Respectfully,
Cpl. HUGH H. BRYANT.

CANNEL CITY.
(Too late for last week.)
Mabel and Verona, the two attractive daughters of Pharis M. Benton, of Batavia, Ohio, are visiting their many friends and relatives here and at Cannel City. We are glad to have them among us once more.
Messrs. Dora Arnett, Goebel Holbrook, Asa Miller, and Rollie Haddix at Lee City, were guests at the Reed Hotel Saturday night.
Harris Howard, and daughter, Mrs. Ollie Benton were in Jackson on business Tuesday.
Raymond Walters, who has typhoid is improving.
Mrs. Reeyann Chester visited her sister, Mrs. D. Spencer, of Fromen, the last of the week.
Mr. Garnett, was in town Monday putting up a monument to the grave of John P. Salyer.
Miss Maxine Whitt, Mrs. Golden Manning and Woodford Patrick, and Roy Benton were in Jackson Sunday and Mrs. R. B. Kash, of French

WE HAVE TRAINED HIM, TAUGHT HIM:
There appeared in last week's Courier a clipping from the Salyersville Independent, in which among other things was this statement, "We have raised up a man to serve us. We have trained him, taught him."
I take it that the "We" used above means the people of this Judicial District or at least the Magoffin part of it. Let us not forget however that after "We" had trained him up for twelve years this very same "We" rejected him. Then what? You too well know the story. By and through the efforts of this favorite son, the especially trained, the raised up one, and other interested parties, he legislated himself back into office, thus creating another "We" to propagate in office this elect one.
Now, Mr. Voter: whose say is this? Emphatically it is yours. Is there anything binding upon you to give the office to this man for life just because the district was made for him, or in order that he might have a job? What say you at the polls?
Not merely a job says the same article. Good! So say we all. Not a mere job. Right: But, if it is not a job, why was the thing created? Of course it was a job, then but now what? An especially made job, for an especially trained up child. So simple. He was made for the job and the job was made for him. What do you say Mr. Voter? It is your time to spell.
Right we say, not a job. It is a very responsible position, a sacred trust, placed by the electorate, and not given by divine right, in some man whom they believe can and will best serve them.
Listen how they shout: Kennard! a country lawyer and not qualified to be a Judge. But suppose we take seventeen years of experience from Dud Gardner and add that to Mr. Kennard. Now compare. We grant you that Judge Gardner is legally qualified. That he could make an ideal Judge. But, has he done so? If not so much more to his discredit.
There is no doubt that Mr. Kennard is as well qualified legally, as was Mr. Gardner at the beginning of his experience. As to his moral integrity, his principle of character and his sense of justice between man and man, any honest man, be he friend or enemy, would be compelled to declare Frank Kennard, the equal, and many would say the peer of the Hon. D. W. Gardner.—Adv.

Vote for
JOHN HENRY WILLIAMS
for COUNTY ATTORNEY.

I desire to say to the voters that I greatly appreciate the interest that so many of you are taking in my race. I feel that you will continue to press this fight so that when the smoke of battle has cleared away you will find me as your nominee by a large majority. I think my race is in exceptionally good condition, and it seems that my nomination is sure.
I ask you to push my fight to the last minute and pay no attention to any reports that may be circulated for the purpose of hurting me. My opponents have had plenty of time to investigate my record and if they could have found one blot upon my character or proven satisfactorily that I was not the best qualified, then, I would quit the race.
I absolutely will not make any combination with either of my opponents for it is unlawful to do so and punishable by a large fine and disfranchisement. I am in the race clean handed to the finish and I desire that you brand all other reports false.
I am going to win, by your help, and when I have won I will work faithfully with all my mind, soul and body for a progressive and peaceful county.
Yours truly,
J. H. WILLIAMS.
